

The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award Holders' Alumni

"Joining the Award Alumni network in Australia is one of my best decisions to date"

Congratulations on achieving your Duke of Edinburgh's International Award.

You are now one of over 775,000 young people who have experienced the Award in Australia, and your journey doesn't have to be over!

Joining the Alumni gives Australian Award holders the opportunity to stay connected with each other and receive:

- Invitations to professional networking events
- Invitations to exclusive events in Australia and overseas
- Regular newsletters featuring inspiring Award stories from Australia and around the world
- Opportunities to volunteer/assist the Award

International Award-
Australia Alumni

“Joining the Alumni in Australia is one of my best decisions to date. It opened doors to international events like APEC, connected me with like-minded people, including prominent leaders and employers and even helped me get my first job.”

Eleanor Kirkpatrick

Gold Award Holder 2012

Eleanor and APEC delegates meet with The Hon Julie Bishop MP prior to APEC 2017 Youth Forum in Vietnam

“Being an Alumnus has given me so many amazing opportunities. I never would have imagined representing Australia at a Gold Award Event in South Korea, presenting to The Earl of Wessex and then being elected to represent Asia Pacific on the International Award Foundation Council for three years.”

Matthew Burfield

Gold Award Holder 2012

Matt is presented a Certificate of Recognition by Former National Chairman Shane Stone AC QC for his contribution to the IAF Council. NSW Parliament House Sydney

“Doing volunteering for the Service section of the Award made me realise the satisfaction of giving back and making someones day a little brighter. Today, as an active Award Alumnus I continue to volunteer my time to mentor and help others”

Alexandra Bradley

Gold Award Holder 2016
